

last night i came to ukraine i was sitting on the sofa and aakash said... in two hours you have to go to satsang i was just sitting there having my tea i said tell me when one hour is left he said now an hour is left to get ready to go satsang the body is not moving...so lazy okay okay people are waiting...so i better go i am like this because of you i have come but if you are not here i would simply sit i am a qualified lazy being it is the greatest achievement in the world question *if you have known the sense of things... the sense of life...

what is really interesting for you ?
why you are living ?
what is the main interest in life for you ?*

i live in celebration life is a dance and a celebration i am only celebrating my life everything is dancing
this silence is buzzing this aliveness is so overwhelming too much !
what can i say...
and it will never end for me life is just a celebration even without moving a millimetre everything is still and shssshhhh...this sound is so drowning pure ecstasy of silence... just beauty

i am going to live forever life will continue forever it will never end for me that is the celebration my celebration has begun and i am with beautiful people i am continuously dancing with people celebrating and sharing question the one who knows himself and the one who knows everything do you have some interests ?

the one who knows himself is no more i am you
you are me
why am i living ?
you are there
i am complete
i am no more
but you are me...she is me...he is me... you are all me...
we are all together

if i am complete i have disappeared but you are there
you are reflecting me
so i will dance with you...for you... you are my interest