

your inner contentment... you are filled with it when you are home just come back home be filled with your silent presence and see the beauty of this utter let go no struggle no desire no dreams
just life pulsating within you this experience is the simplest experience possible for everything else you need to do... you need to add...

you need to become...
for this experience you do not need anything you do not even need yourself that is why it is truth when this body...this mind...this dreaming will fall what will remain is a silent presence you will come and you will go this body will come and it will go your thoughts and dreams and desires are continuously moving see the unmoving space within you that which will remain when you have gone this is the search of the mystic how to become more and more deeply acquainted with your presence... not with the person...the persona... its mind...its dreaming but who you are in your essential being who are you ?

what is your real nature ?
that which will survive...that is your eternity not knowing your eternity within you...you are very poor you can achieve everything on the outside but you have not even tasted yourself you have not tasted the bliss...the beauty...your inner treasure... everything is worthless if you do not even know who you are you are life itself you are the highest peak of evolution of existence this life that has been given to you has raised itself to the highest potential you are not only human but you are divine to understand this divineness within you... to see this inner being of light... just a single taste of it... and you will realise... what all the masters have been saying what all the buddhas have been indicating to you pointing this finger to the moon you are a being of light pure light...reflected...is you find your immortal being just see this simple message how can you go on chasing dreams ? these dreams are not yours these dreams have been given to you from the outside all these thoughts that you are carrying have been fed to you from the outside you have to become this... this is your destiny... you need to achieve this... and a thousand and one goals are given to you by your family...your friends...the society...the governments...
