

question what does it mean to you to love yourself ?

for me personally...i do not have any self left to love my self has disappeared i am only love left here i have no direction for myself i am dissolved
you are my love
love is simply spreading wherever it goes no self
you are my love

now the whole energy turns around and it starts spreading outward it simply overflows and starts spreading like radiation i am so filled... i am simply absent...
no self...
but i have you
i have you all
so many more people to dissolve are you ready ?
join the dance !

question what exactly do you mean by you ?

many things... it depends
there are so many yous
you is not one
there are many yous
each one is so different i never said you to anybody the same way question what do you mean by you when you are addressing to everybody ?

oh...i am very egoistic it means me...ha ha !
when i say you...i am saying me
ha ha ha ha !

question and what do you mean by me ?

me means you...ha ha !! you are me...i am you... when i say you...i mean me when i say me...i am not here...it means you ! any sense it makes ?
just be confused

there is no you...no me... this is one pool
where are you ? where am i ?
you may be sitting there but you are also drowned in a certain space if you think you are here then you are looking at a part but look at the whole here it is a space
we are connected there is no two

you see my hand moving ?
the air is not empty
this is our connection
in the middle you are hiding somewhere in your cave that i am here
