

question i like to ask a question about the science of life are these just games of the mind or there is really some reality about providence or fate and destiny ?

no fate...no destiny...no science awareness...non awareness awake or sleeping for the sleeping there is no science at all for the awakened one there is a science but for the sleeping...what is the science ? a person who is sleeping does not even know one plus one is two !
no science !
for the person who is sleeping there is no fate unconsciousness is not a fate consciousness has a future the moment you move on the path of consciousness now you are deciding about your life before that it is all accidental this world is accidental nothing is planned it is all just moving consciousness moves out of this plane of unconsciousness no faith...no destiny...no science and you are lucky because if you had a fate and a destiny then you are a slave for anybody who has come with a fate and a destiny there is no use to live the destiny is going to happen the fate is going to happen so you leave it to the other you leave it to god he has written your fate and your destiny so whether you jump in the ocean or you jump in the well or you do not jump...it is destined to be do not be a slave to anybody if anybody writes my destiny i will cut the persons head off i would rather be alone with no fate and no destiny than have somebody write my destiny and my fate and that is true for you too you are free !

free to choose any destiny... you write it and you make it you are in total control you do what you want to do and choose the best for yourself who can know what is good for you ? only you can know so choose the best okay !

question *what does it mean to be a sannyasin ?
what does it mean to take sannyas ?*

dropping the mind...
all this knowledge...
all this weight... disappearing into the mystery of life just putting your whole inner being...in deep gratitude... towards this whole existence opening your eyes just letting go no more struggle to be...to become just accepting yourself perfectly the way you are
