

A woman with long dark hair is shown in profile, speaking into a silver microphone. The background is a soft, out-of-focus grey.

i repeat it a million times... it happens in your totality in that peaked explosive state you are experiencing the very truth that you are carrying and then how to dissolve into it becomes so simple because you are in such a peaked state that you are dissolved there is no more boundary between you... and the energetic space that surrounds you whatsoever i am saying everyday is nothing but rubbish so do not listen to my stupid words because i am going again and again to the same point how to attain to the peak... and how to deepen the silence i speak in this way or in that way just to engage you in some stupid logic but it is all rubbish... next time we dance do not miss the opportunity i do not know anything about meditation questioner you know nothing about it !

i know nothing about it but i do know...the no thing... we are discussing no thing here i did not say i do not know i said i know no thing we are here to discuss no thing not what i know
but what i do not know
ha ha ha ha
i know no thing

questioner me too !

disappear !
you are not there
if you say...me too...
then you are saying you are there i am not here
do not say...me too...
say...nobody here...
but i like your rude tee shirt...very cool now get your backpack off and relax !
ha ha ha

there are so many beautiful people here who have come again and again and each time they come...we ask why are you here ? they do not know...
last time they got nothing and now they are back again you can see them all looking foolish with a mala around their neck they have got nothing but they have come again...

so welcome all you fools and mad people we are all mad people meeting mad people we are all foolish...ignorant !

something invisible transpires we do not know how to catch it what is this madness ?
what brings us there again and again ?
and when you go back home you miss that madness so when this mad person rajneesh is back again let us go and become mad for a little while... this society is so sane so many intelligent people living there i am not one of them...
