

first connect to nature... that is why i love lao tsu the most no blah blah blah
no feeding your mind with information but just showing you the way sit under a tree...

    become silent... and the tree will show you the way the human being is also a tree your seed...roots...trunk...branches...flowering...fragrance... you are a walking tree...

the greatest master in this world is a tree you can live sixty years...seventy years... trees can live three thousand to five thousand years look at the wisdom of the trees !
when any master has become enlightened he immediately rushes towards a tree and connects to the tree the tree secures his being of light...

    about the word deprogramming... i am not a therapist or deprogrammer i am saying get out of any program you do not need deprogramming you simply get out of all programs... and find your human heart connect it to this beautiful world and you have so many natural elements within you you are a wild natural being you have not been contaminated as yet and you can easily connect to nature connecting totally to nature is your enlightened presence let me say it clearly...the trees are enlightened...

everything in existence is enlightened...except man because we think we have a special program that we are beyond the species of birds and trees and animals because we have degrees and classes and universities we are special people we are free to be stupid... we do not know how to connect to nature follow the way of nature and nature will guide you i have never seen a fake river... i have seen many fake gurus... even my words are fake... i cannot be as truthful and as honest as that flowing river...

i just came from mexico where we went to the most beautiful waterfall the waterfall continuously reminded me of the truth millions and millions and millions of drops of water cascading down the waterfall each and every drop creating pure sound...a pure vibration... not a single drop...not a single drop...was uttering a lie millions of molecules of water rushing by and you could hear the sound of aum...aum...aum... pure vibration of truth filling the air in such abundance the master is present in that waterfall... not a hint of a lie

whatever obstructed the water... it simply flowed and flowed and flowed with no hesitation...a pure let go... no complaints...no hurry... just flowing in utter rhythm and so many molecules of water flowing down that waterfall the result is pure sound of bliss...
